Background Information:

Bristol Beacon

Bristol Music Trust was established in 2011 to run the South West's largest concert venue, Bristol Beacon, and promote musical excellence, creative learning, and engagement. We announced a change of name in September 2020 from Bristol Beacon to Bristol Beacon – a symbol of hope and community, a focal point for music and a place of welcome, warmth and light.

Bristol Beacon has been part of Bristol's cultural heritage for 150 years, hosting some of the world's greatest musicians from The Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra to The Beatles and Rachmaninov. Our vision is to unite people through the joy of live music. We achieve this through a diverse programme of inspirational musical experiences, which offers something for everybody and encompasses music of all genres including classical, jazz, folk, world, rock, and pop, as well as local choirs, orchestras, and schools.

In 2018, we embarked on a major capital transformation to create a world-class concert hall for the region that is the most inclusive in the UK. Prior to transformation, our artistic programme had grown to 450 events and six major festivals, attracting 300,000 visitors per year. Our visitors come from across the UK and abroad with 65% from Bristol. Throughout the refurbishment, we have established a programme of 200 concerts per year in interesting locations, which has maintained crucial engagement with audiences and artists, targeting hard-to-reach groups and disadvantaged areas.

As an organisation increasing in national importance, we have developed our creative learning and engagement work on an unparalleled scale. Our specialisms include working with underrepresented communities, including 2,500 young people with disabilities and in care. As the Music-Education-Hub for Bristol, we deliver the National-Plan-for-Music-Education to all children aged 4-18, inspiring 39,000 children in 150 schools, special schools, and youth groups every year. Our community led Transformation Promise programme, in partnership with The National Foundation for Youth Music and Paul Hamlyn Foundation, works with children under five from low-income families, adults in social isolation/with dementia, children in care/care leavers and community musicians.

We are showing further sector leadership through our sustainability commitment to become the first carbon neutral concert hall in the UK.

We achieve all of this through the work of our vibrant and dedicated staff team. We aspire to reflect the city of Bristol and its people and value individual difference.

Creative Learning & Engagement

Creative Learning & Engagement (CLE) is responsible for four areas of work: The National Centre for Inclusive Excellence, Artist Development, Community Engagement, and Bristol Plays Music (Bristol's music education hub).

Now in its seventh year, Bristol Plays Music has made significant progress toward achieving its vision of making Bristol the 'UK Capital of Young People's Music'. Our award-winning education programme for young people now works with and reaches Bristolians of all ages and all backgrounds.

At the heart of our work is great music making and learning. Our programme sets out to encourage participation, engender a sense of civic pride and instil a lifelong love of musical culture. With three prestigious awards in two years from the Music Education Council (MEC) and Music Teacher Awards for Excellence, including winning the Major Prize for best music education hub, our work is gaining national recognition.

Over the next four years, as the transformation of the Hall comes into focus, a sharper vision for learning and engagement will be required; one that underpins the Trusts revised strategic priorities and engages all the communities of Greater Bristol and beyond. Looking ahead, CLE will work in close partnership with the Programme team to further integrate education and engagement activities into the creative output of the Hall – maximising the opportunities made possible through a world-class live music programme.
